

Static and Dynamic SQL

— afteracademy.com/blogs —

1. write a dynamic function that take one or many region name in function parameter where query must be display region name and total number of employees as region name wise.
2. write a dynamic function that take one or many department id in function parameter where query must be display department name and sum of employees salary as department name.